Koenig Mulls Buying 'Mini-Buses'

By HUGH REYNOLDS

KINGSTON

Kingston may be just around the corner from solving its busing problem. Not just for now, but for well into the future.

The answer, according to Mayor Francis R. Koenig, who worked on a solution through the month of January, could come from an Ohio firm that manufactures the "Flexette" Bus.

Koenig said today that he is awaiting a formal proposal from Frank Albright of Mountain View Coach Lines.

The buses cost $17,000 brand new, but Albright has located half a dozen used buses in Indiana with 50,000 miles on them that can allegedly be purchased for about $7,000 each. The "Flexette", according to literature Koenig secured from the manufacturer, can go as long as 130,000 miles before major repairs are needed. It seats 19 persons.

Koenig indicated that three of the "mini-buses" would be needed for the city, two to run on the regular routes and one spare bus. "If we can set this thing up for about $20,000, we could be in business," Koenig told The Freeman today.

The city would go into the bus business in much the same way it is in it now: under a leasing arrangement. The city has been leasing a school bus from Jerry Ausanio for the past two weeks at $365 a week. Ausanio pays all expenses from that amount. An account is kept of fares and if they add up to less than $365 a week, the city pays the difference.

Business has been slowly picking up under the Ausanio arrangement. The first week, he took in $168.25. Last week he took in $211.

The city would have the same arrangement with Mountain View with the company paying for the cost of the buses. Various figures have been bandied about but the one of $800 a week for both buses seems to be the one most seriously discussed.

Koenig indicated, however, that fares probably have to be increased from the 25 cents now being charged. He did not say how high they would go, but indications are that the ceiling would be at 40 cents a ride. The city's aim is to break even on the bus operation and the fare will be adjusted accordingly.

Koenig has already asked the Common Council for a 30-day extension for his emergency powers under which he set up the leasing arrangement with Ausanio. Council approval is expected tonight when the aldermen meet in regular session.

Koenig said that the Flexette bus has a number of advantages over its larger counterparts that are now more widely used. For one thing, it is much more maneuverable and as such would cause less problems in traffic. It also meets, according to the mayor, the air pollution standards of the State of California which are more stringent than federal requirements. The bus runs off a six-cylinder engine.

Koenig expects a proposal from Mountain View within the next week or so, after which he will meet with the Railroad and Bus Committee of the Council for its approval.

Bernadette Slugs British Official

LONDON (UPI)—Her shoulder-length hair flying, Bernadette Devlin raced across the floor of the British House of Commons and smashed Home Secretary Reginald Maudling on the jaw. "You murdering hypocrite!" she screamed.

The fists of Miss Devlin, a 5-foot member of parliament, flailed at the six-foot minister who had just sat down next to Prime Minister Edward Heath. The furious attack came when Maudling told parliament that British troops opened fire on Roman Catholics in Londonderry Sunday and killed 13 but only after the soldiers were fired on.

For a moment the lawmakers sat too stunned to move.

Chief government Whip Francis Pym and opposition Whip Robert Mellish caught hold of her, and half-carried, half-dragged her kicking and screaming from the chamber.

Miss Devlin, who resumed her seat about five minutes after the outburst, said she had no intention of apologizing.

"My only regret is that I didn't seize Mr. Maudling by the throat while I had the chance," she said after leaving the commons.

"I was not allowed to have my say on the brutal murder of the 13 people yesterday. I was cold and calm and the blow was a calculated one. I did not lose my temper," she said flashing a thumbs-up sign for photographers.

A newsman asked Miss Devlin if she thought her action was "unladylike."

"There's a young girl whose body was carried out of the Bogside (section) this morning," she said. "She was shot in the back by paratroopers. They didn't ask her if she was a lady."

Maudling, who had also announced just before the attack that the government will hold a "wide and speedy" inquiry into the Sunday shootings, said he was not hurt.

"As for Miss Devlin, I recognize how deep and genuine her feelings are in this matter," the 54-year-old minister said. "However, I do not share them."

Meanwhile, in Belfast, gangs of youths used flaming trucks as barricades against British soldiers Monday in a mounting campaign of violence protesting the killing of 13 Londonderry citizens by British paratroopers.

In London, the British government ordered creation of a special tribunal to investigate the shootings. The Protestant Northern Ireland government said it would welcome the inquiry.

The latest wave of violence included the wounding of four British soldiers by snipers, a bomb blast which wrecked two buses and the attempted bombing of an old school near the Irish Republic borders.

Five gunmen burst into the home of Alexander Green, the former mayor of Lurgan, and shot and wounded him. The men also set off a bomb in the home, badly damaging the building.

Viet Documents List Hanoi Offer

WASHINGTON (AP) — North Vietnamese documents indicate Hanoi offered to send Minister Xuan Thuy to a secret Paris meeting with Henry A. Kissinger last Nov. 20, but the United States declined, holding out for a higher-ranking Communist representative.

"No point would be served by a meeting," Washington is said to have replied after a scheduled session between Kissinger and Hanoi's special advisor, Le Duc Tho, fell through because Tho was taken ill.

The North Vietnamese account of the canceled session differs markedly from one offered by President Nixon in a nationally broadcast address on the Paris peace talks Jan. 25.

Nixon used the address to unveil an eight-point peace offer made to Hanoi in October, and to disclose that Kissinger, his foreign-affairs advisor, had met in secret 12 times in Paris with Thuy or Tho, or both, in an attempt to breathe some life into the Vietnam war talks.

Nixon said: "On Oct. 11, I sent a private communication to the North Vietnamese that contained new elements that could move negotiations forward, and urged a meeting on Nov. 1 between Dr. Kissinger and Special Advisor Le Duc Tho or some other appropriate official from Hanoi.

"On Oct. 25, the North Vietnamese agreed to meet and suggested Nov. 20. On Nov. 17, just three days before the scheduled meeting, they said Le Duc Tho was ill. We offered to meet as soon as Le Duc Tho recovered, with him, or immediately with any other authorized leader who could come from Hanoi.

"Two months have passed since they called off that meeting. The only reply to our plan has been an increase in troop infiltration from North Vietnam and Communist military offensives in Laos and Cambodia

... According to the documents released in Paris Monday, a U.S. message of Nov. 19 said Washington was ready to meet with Tho, who is a member of the Politburo, "or any other representative of the North Vietnamese political leadership, together with Minister Xuan Thuy, in order to bring a rapid end to the war."

It was at this point that the whole secret negotiating process in Paris broke down. The North Vietnamese have yet to name an alternative date for Tho to meet with Kissinger.

Arrest Warrants for Irving

Hughes Inquiry Spans Atlantic

NEW YORK (UPI)—The inquiry into possible fraud involving the "autobiography" of Howard Hughes spanned the Atlantic today with arrest warrants for author Clifford Irving issued in Switzerland and the promise of an official investigation made in the United States.

In Zurich the situation was more serious for Irving, an American citizen, and his Swiss-born wife Edith, 36.

Officials there issued arrest warrants for the couple on "urgent suspicion of fraud, falsification of official documents, and investigation of these crimes."

In this country where the couple arrived Thursday, U.S. Attorney Whitney North Seymour and New York County District Attorney Frank S. Hogan conferred on possible federal charges of wire and mail fraud and state charges of fraud and perjury against Irving.

Zurich District Attorney Peter Velleff said today that although they have issued the arrest warrants they needed the cooperation of U.S. police to solve the "autobiography mystery."

His announcement followed police investigations which turned up $42,000 in cash and securities in a branch of the Swiss Bank Corporation.

The bank, one of Switzerland's largest, is located across the street from the Swiss Credit Bank where Irving's wife cashed $650,000 in checks issued to Hughes.

By Irving's own admission, his wife used the name "Helga R. Hughes" on a falsified Swiss passport as identification for cashing the checks, by the publishing firm McGraw-Hill to Hughes for the rights to his "autobiography."

Irving said she did so on instructions from the billionaire recluse, with whom he also said he collaborated in writing the book. However, Hughes has issued denials of Irving's statements.

Fenner to Appeal Conviction

KINGSTON trial saw Fenner testify that he did not consider the materials he sold to be obscene. He also emphasized that persons under 21 years of age were not allowed inside the store and that no outside solicitation was involved.

Fenner was represented in court by Robert Kramer, an attorney for the American Civil Liberties Union. The defendant was the sole defense witness. Assistant District Attorney John DallVecchia, called two witnesses to the stand: Ronald Natoli, the police officer who arrested Fenner, and Detective Sergeant William Slover who commanded the detail of detectives that confiscated some 190 books and magazines from the Adult Book Store.

Both Natoli and Slover testified that, in their opinion, the materials seized were obscene. Five separate magazines were admitted into evidence.

In his charge to the jury, Judge Richter said that the test of obscenity is that they predominate in appeal to the prurient interests of the community as a whole, and that they are utterly without redeeming social value.

Dall Vecchia, in his summation, said the jury must decide if similar materials are to be allowed to freely circulate through the community.

Kramer maintained that the prosecution did not prove that the magazines were obscene.

City School Employees Gain 'Frozen' Increases

KINGSTON Employees of the Kingston City Schools Consolidated today received salary increases that had been withheld during the three months of President Nixon's wage price freeze last year.

Superintendent of Schools Louis A. Salzmann announced the salary payment Monday.

The local school district moved to pay the frozen wages immediately after receiving written approval from the Poughkeepsie office of the Internal Revenue Service.

From Aug. 15 through Nov. 13, employees of the district were paid at their 1970-71 contractual rate. Salary raises included in their 1971-72 contracts were not allowed.

The money has been held since then in an escrow account, while school officials awaited word from the IRS on the legality of retroactive pay raises.

That word came Monday, according to Salzmann. He said that the district knew that the IRS would approve the increases shortly, and that the checks had been prepared beforehand so that employees would receive their money without further delay.

The special checks were distributed today.

The major category of employees affected is teachers, members of the Kingston Teachers Federation. Also due back money, said Salzmann, are several administrators and clerical workers.

Salzmann said that the district has been checking regularly with the IRS in Poughkeepsie in an attempt to obtain a definite ruling on the retroactive pay question.

Last week, the Kingston Teachers Federation sent a telegram to President Nixon accusing him of "direct intervention to prevent payments directed by Congress." The teachers group said that Congress had earlier approved the back pay, but that the IRS had not been directed by the President to approve the wage hikes. The teachers had been working closely with Congressman Hamilton Fish Jr.

(R-28th) in an attempt to obtain their back pay. Salzmann said today that he has no idea how much money has been withheld from the teachers. The amount paid today, however, represents 25 per cent of the salary increase granted to the teachers over the 1970-71 wage scale. In September, the Board of Education defeated a motion that would have frozen the teachers' wages. The decision was based on the fact that the teachers' contract had been signed prior to the beginning of the wage freeze. A later federal ruling, however, prevented the payment of retroactive wages.

New Paltz Village Property Condemnation to Cost Taxpayers Nearly $60,000

By WADE BURKHART

NEW PALTZ

The condemnation of the former Ungerland property on Main Street of New Paltz should cost the village taxpayers about $60,000, according to an estimate made by Village Attorney Dominick Porto at Monday night's meeting of the Board of Trustees.

Porto said the final figure would be based on the acceptance of the village's offer of $57,000 for the property by a condemnation appraiser.

The property is now owned by Carrol's, the hamburger stand people, and they intend to put a hamburger stand on the property if they can. The village board, after examining the aesthetics of the situation and the possible traffic problems, has decided the village could use a park in that very location, and is trying to condemn the property for that purpose.

Carrol's and Porto are going to be in court this Friday, Feb. 4, to argue the case. Porto said the necessary Carrol's executives had been served Jan. 11, but he had no word from them and no idea of their intention. He said his intentions were to be present and deliver the necessary oral and written arguments for condemnation.

Porto's estimate of the cost to the taxpayers was made in response to a question from the floor from Charles Karsten about the true cost of the venture. Karsten said he had heard estimates around town running up to $200,000. Porto said if the property was worth that much "I would buy it myself."

Porto said his legal fees in the matter would be something over $1,000. The main variable, according to the attorney, would be what the condemnation appraiser did with the village's $57,000 offer. Porto felt the offer was based on the "fair market value" of the property and would not be far off. He said court costs would be minimal.

A letter was received from the Town of New Paltz accepting the village's date of Feb. 7 for a joint public meeting of the two boards. The arrangements for the meeting have spanned several months and required voluminous correspondence. The meeting is to be in the Town Hall at 8 p.m. However it is scheduled for the first Monday of the month, the regular meeting date of the town planning board, and some checking will be done to see if there is a conflict.

Three parcels owned by the Faculty-Student Association at the State University College at New Paltz will be among 22 parcels with a total of $5,952.15 in taxes due on them involved in the village's March 18 tax sale. Village Clerk Wilbur C. Fredenburgh said he had contacted the FSA and been told the association would not be paying the about $800 in taxes due on the property. The reasons for their refusal to pay were unclear. The FSA has paid taxes on the properties in the past, said Fredenburgh.

Misses Lucille Stephens and Mary A. Cotter, who live on Huguenot Street, attended the meeting to complain about the smell from the village's sewage treatment plant, located on the Walkill River off Huguenot street.

Miss Stephens said she kept a personal log of the odors from the plant, and had them classified under the headings "Smell", "Stink", "Foul Smell", and "Sweet Smell". She said the odors were present "a good deal of the time."

This Week's Food Buy Is Poultry

Consumers will have to wait a while longer before they can expect any break in the upward price trend of meat prices, according to the New York State Market and Consumer Information Service. Retailers are still having difficulty with the supply problem as well as the wholesale price problem. However, demand may decrease somewhat as consumer resistance increases.

Poultry, the one economical feature in the meat picture, is expected to rise sharply next week, leaving the consumer with very little chance to economize. This week, however, there will be some fryer sales at the old price, along with turkey features in the 35 cent to 45 cent range, and roasting chickens at 39 cents. All are good buys.

Beef will be sparingly featured and running mostly to forequarter cuts, such as boneless chuck roast around 98 cents, round bone shoulder roast 89 cents, blade cut chuck roast, 59 cents, and center cut 69 cents, with center cut chuck steak at 79 cents. A few stores will feature ground chuck from 79 cents to 89 cents, ground beef at 59 cents, beef liver at 49 cents and stew beef from 89 cents to 99 cents. Also, there will be a few sales on cube steak at $1.39, sirloin steak $1.29 and porterhouse and sirloin tip steak from $1.49 to $1.59, as well as corned beef at 98 cents, frozen eye round roast 99 cents and franks in a 59 cents to 79 cents range.

Pork, being extremely high priced at wholesale, will be featured very slightly with occasional sales on loin roast with prices about 5 cents to 10 cents higher than last week. Also fresh ham around 69 cents, semi-boneless ham from 69 cents to 89 cents, with center cut slices 99 cents. A few stores will feature cooked dry hams butt portion 69 cents, and shank portion 59 cents, also slab bacon 49 cents. Regular bacon has become a luxury item.

Look for a few sales on imported frozen lamb with leg roast in the 69 cents to 79 cents range, shoulder roast 49 cents, blade cut shoulder chops 59 cents to 69 cents, round bone shoulder chops 79 cents and combination packs of stew and chops 39 cents.

Doing the Right Thing

By ELIZABETH L. POST
(© 1972 Emily Post Institute, Inc.)

DEAR MRS. POST: Would you print something about "rain checks"? Occasionally I ask people to dinner on a certain evening and they say they can't come then but that they will take a rain check and come the next Saturday. Invariably "next Saturday" is very inconvenient for me, and I have to make my plans over to accommodate them. It doesn't seem right for them to set the time to come to dinner in my home. How can one get out of this situation?

ALICE GOLDEN

DEAR MRS. GOLDEN: There is a vast difference between "I'm so sorry — please give us a rain check" and "Give us a rain check for next weekend." The first is a polite way of showing your disappointment, the second is an imposition.

You do not have to accept their self-invitation. Just say pleasantly but firmly, "I'm sorry, but we have another date for next Saturday. I'll call you to set another date." Then do it, when it's convenient for YOU.

DEAR MRS. POST: When making contributions in memory of a deceased person, I have always made them to that person's favorite charity or their church. Recently, however, I was surprised to see that the mass cards had been present at the funeral home for a non-Catholic.

Was this correct, or would it have been more appropriate to send a donation to the church where the deceased was a member?

MELINDA

DEAR MELINDA: Catholics (and people of other religions, too) say a rosary or offer a mass for someone of another faith. Their prayers are for both the soul of the deceased and the comfort of the bereaved. One need not be of the same faith to be the beneficiary of another's prayers, and the one offering the act of faith prefers to make his personal donation to the bereaved in this way rather than to the church of the deceased.

Look Here Mrs. Homemaker

Coffee is the beverage most commonly consumed in this country. According to Soft Drink Industry magazine, coffee consumption averaged 55.9 gallons per person in 1970 to lead all other beverages. But coffee consumption per capita has been declining over the past several years while consumption of soft drinks has nearly doubled since 1961, says Louise K. Breitung, Extension Home Economist. With a strong upturn consumption, the soft drink industry believes that their product will soon be the most widely consumed beverage in the United States. The soft drink industry includes a large number of different drinks.

Americans are also drinking more of many beverages. Tea, beer, juices, and distilled spirit consumption also increased by varying amounts during the decade of the 60's. But the amount of milk consumed per person was down.

Fruit and vegetables — McIntosh and Cortland apples in the 3-pound cello pack is a reasonable fruit buy. Winter pears, primarily Bosc and D'Anjou, are economical. Oranges, small grapefruit, and bananas continue good choices. Leading selections among the vegetables are potatoes, winter squash, lettuce, onions, radishes, cabbage, peppers, and rutabagas.

February plentiful — The U.S. Department of Agriculture has identified a long list of Plentiful Foods for February, headed by the features of prunes and canned peaches. Other plentiful for the month are potatoes and potato products, canned corn, grapefruit, oranges, apples, winter pears, canned fruit cocktail, prune juice, pitted prunes, peanuts and peanut products, split peas, eggs, and hominy grits.

Situation Foreign to French Female

DEAR ABBY: I am a college student (male type) who recently started going with a very ditsy French exchange student. We combine business with pleasure as she also tutors me in French. (This is no gag, I pay her.)

The problem is that she lives on campus and I commute. When we are together it is always at my place because she lives with two other girls. I call for her and drive her home, but it is such a great distance that we usually pull up in front of her place in broad daylight. She doesn't like this because she says the neighbors "talk."

and it looks bad. I told her she could eliminate the problem by staying at my place all night, but she won't buy it. How can I convince her that in this country it doesn't mean anything if a guy brings a girl home by the dawn's early light? COLLEGE MAN

DEAR MAN: I can't convince her because I agree with her. Start earlier and you won't bring her home in the "oui" hours of the morning.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a co-worker whose idea of a very special Christmas "gift" is a large picture of himself with a flowery description?

JUST ASKING

DEAR JUST: He must be long on pictures and short on taste.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 21-year-old bride-to-be. The groom is still married to his first wife. Our wedding is set for Feb. 12th, the invitations have already gone out, but he's still not divorced.

Every time I mention it to him he tells me that these things take "time." When we became engaged (two years ago), he told me he was getting a divorce, but for some reason it hasn't come thru yet. I sometimes wonder if he isn't still in love with his first wife, and is just using me.

What am I going to do about all the wedding plans if he is still married by our wedding date?

CONFUSED

DEAR CONFUSED: Cancel the wedding, of course. But if I were you, I wouldn't wait that long.

DEAR ABBY: This is for the husband of "PRACTICALLY UNTOUCHED IN TULSA": We don't believe that if he doesn't see a doctor, his wife should see a lawyer. He should see his nearest recruiting officer and spend a year in Viet Nam. Then he would appreciate one of the finer things in life — having his wife with him.

Lefooters Square Dance Club to Have Guest Caller

Lefooters Western Style Square Dance Club will have guest caller Buzz Chapman featured at the Friday night dance, February 4. The dance starts at 8:30 p.m. at the Hurley Reformed Church Hall off Route 209. All Club level dancers are invited.

Buzz Chapman began his square dance calling career while still in his teens and has been calling for nine years. He calls regularly for a number of square dance clubs including one as far away as Portland, Maine. Buzz has served as chairman of the Springfield (Mass.) Aeka Callers Association and is currently secretary of the New England Council of Callers, Associations which represents more than 500 callers in the New England area. He also served as program chairman for the 1971 New England Square Dance Convention which was a huge success. It was held in Springfield and more than 7000 square dancers participated.

Buzz, his wife, Cindy, and their two sons live in Florence, Mass., where he is the Western New England

D. C. Supervisor for the M&M Mars Candy Company. Buzz has called for the Lefooters on several previous occasions and club members are looking forward to welcoming him once again.

Fashion Tips

Chinese influences will be big in the spring jewelry picture. There are Oriental character earrings, pendants and dangles, dragons, jade, mother of pearl and symbolic shaping.

Spring marks the return of the bare back and shoulders in after-dark dresses. The bare looks include halter dresses, off the shoulder styles, strapless dresses and bare midriffs. Deep plunging necklines also will be popular in dance dresses.

The layered dress for spring takes on the separates look with a make-believe tank top, with contrasting fabric sleeves or with a matching short jacket. Some sweater dresses have a body-fitting leotard top with a printed skirt.

Hints from Heloise

By HELOISE CRUISE
IT'S A VERY ENGAGING HOBBY!

Clever girls, don't you think?

Mrs. Floyd Arnholt

Dear Heloise:

Recently, you wondered if girls still have hope chests. I'm one who does. Although I don't know how hope chests originated, my grandmother and mother thought I should have one.

Since I'm an antique-lover, my hope chest is an old trunk I antiqued, then lined with the decorative stickon paper that many women use to line their cabinets.

There are so many items to put in a chest so I'll just mention a few: towel cases in bins, sheets and pillowcases, pot holders, blankets, measuring cups, cookware, cutlery, cook-books or recipes, and even lingerie for the honeymoon.

These are just a few, but maybe it will start you off on the right track. Hope chests are a good idea, to me. I think every girl should make preparations for marriage and this is a fabulous way!

Deborah

Right you are, Debbie. Ain't it great to see this custom coming back in style again? I'm for it!

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

When cutting rhubarb for small or large amounts, use a pair of scissors. It is fast, and no strings on the rhubarb, either.

It also saves your thumb! I discovered this myself, so maybe others will use the idea.

Love your hints and wouldn't miss them. They're the first thing I turn to when I open the paper.

Helen P. Cornwell

Dear Heloise:

Just had to tell you of a clever decorating idea my daughter and daughter-in-law just used.

We built a new cabin and had an old refrigerator which seemed to be an eyesore in the new cabin. The girls got some adhesive-backed paper with white and yellow daisies on it. They covered the refrigerator and then cut some of the flowers out and put them on the window behind it.

They also covered coffee cans with the same pattern and are using them as canisters.

We get all kinds of nice comments on our flowery refrigerator.

I tried it and I'll buy it lock, stock and barrel. They can also be kept in the refrigerator a few days before baking.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise:

The lady who washed her clothes with potato flakes reminded me of the time I brushed my teeth with a cream that gums the hair.

Didn't do much for my teeth but sure made my breath smell good!

Held my teeth in place, too, when I went out into the wind!

H.M.S.

DEAR HELOISE:

I have a suggestion for those girls who like the new beautifully colored and designed glass or pottery canister sets, but do not really have a use for them. If they are like me, they keep their flour in the refrigerator, don't use a lot of sugar, leave the coffee in the can, etc.

This is what I do with my sets:

Because we have a large German shepherd, I bought a set of beautiful green glass jar in several sizes and keep my dog's dry dog food in one, his large dog food "bones" in another, and his small treats and tidbits in another.

Really, this saves always having to get into a paper package for these items.

They also lend a spot of color and beauty to a kitchen counter or cabinet.

More Fighting Looms in S. E. Asia

Jack Anderson Says

WASHINGTON — The latest intelligence reports indicate that Hanoi has no intention of settling the war in Indochina at the conference table.

It is also evident that the latest communist drives in Laos, Cambodia and South Vietnam are coordinated by Hanoi.

Communist cadres in all three countries are spreading the word, according to one secret CIA cable, "that the U.S. withdrawal from Indochina is only a matter of time and that the three states of Indochina are now joined together to fight the U.S. openly anywhere in Indochina."

A typical cadre briefing was given recently by a high-ranking Pathet Lao colonel named Vanna at a secret site in the Muong Phalane area of Laos. The CIA was able to get a detailed, 18-page account of the secret meeting.

"Vanna said that the U.S. is losing the war in South Vietnam and that is the reason President Nixon is disengaging from Indochina," recounts the CIA.

"Also, the U.S. Congress and the U.S. people have openly advocated the withdrawal of U.S. forces from Indochina and the reduction of aid to the government of South Vietnam."

"He added that the joining of Cambodia with Vietnam and Laos in common battle against the U.S. has united Indochina, and that the three countries as a united force will openly fight the U.S. anywhere in Indochina.

"Vanna commented, however, that . . . the U.S.

withdrawal will not be easily accomplished. The U.S. will probably disengage aggressively in order to show its strength to the world and to show that it has not lost anywhere in Indochina.

"Vanna explained that the U.S. will not admit defeat and will continue its 'support' to the South Vietnamese, RLG (Royal Lao Government) and Long Nol 'puppets' (Cambodia).

U.S. Elections

"If Nixon wins the 1972 U.S. elections, the U.S. (is expected) to conduct a longer and more vigorous Indochina war. If the Democrats win, then the U.S. can be expected to terminate the war more quickly."

"In any event, he explained, the U.S. will eventually disengage, and the U.S. elections will only indicate whether it will disengage more quickly or more slowly."

"Vanna noted that the North Vietnamese allies remain firmly committed to Ho Chi Minh's advice to 'vanquish the Americans and be true to the historic missions of North Vietnam.'"

The secret CIA Summary also contained an ominous hint that the Pathet Lao might call Chinese troops into Laos if the government continues to use Thai troops. At present, approximately 4,000 Thais are fighting with the Laotian Army inside Laos.

"Vanna said that on several occasions," continued the CIA report, "the NLHS (communist front) has refused Communist Chinese proposals to 'liberate Laos' on the grounds that world tensions would probably result. However, he said continued or increased infusion of Royal Thai Army troops into Laos could result in the introduction of Chinese Army combat elements . . ."

"Vanna said that 'the enemy is like a dog with a piece of meat. He will not leave it alone unless he is soundly thrashed.'"

Clearly, the fighting is far from finished in Indochina.

House Junket

The congressional junketeering year got off to an impressive start when 14 members of the House Ways and Means Committee, 11 of their wives and four staff members flew off to Europe on a luxurious Air Force jetliner.

Under Chairman Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., the committee has been almost alone in the House in resisting the temptation to see exotic lands at the taxpayers' expense. But when they broke tradition, they broke it in style.

The excuse for this pleasure safari was to educate the members in the workings of the European Common Market and related trade problems. In the past, the members got sufficient education from testimony, staff reports and other data less expensive for the taxpayer than a week in Paris and Brussels.

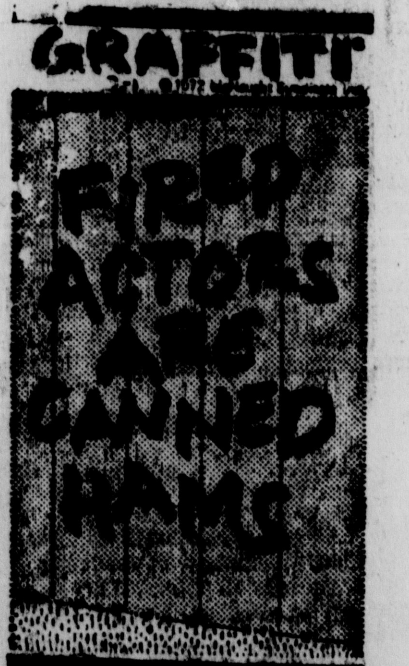

One member, Rep. James Corman, D-Calif., was so enthusiastic about the junketeering that he stretched his tour to include India, Australia and New Zealand, all on "committee business." Corman paid for his wife's transportation.

Other Ways and Means junketeers stretched the week-long Common Market tour to include such places as Israel, Madrid or Budapest. They were Reps. Richard Fulton, D-Tenn.; Hugh Carey, D-N.Y.; Herman Schneebeli, R-Pa.; and Barber Conable, R-N.Y.

Those who settled for the standard week in Paris and Brussels were Reps. Phil Landrum, D-Ga.; Sam Givons, D-Fla.; Joe Karth, D-Minn.; John Byrnes, R-Wis.; Jackson Betts, R-Ohio; Jerry Pettis, R-Calif.; and Don Brotzman, R-Colo.

Wilbur Mills, who unleashed the junketeers, couldn't make the trip himself because of a back injury. But his approval of the trip meant free transportation for the members and $50 a day for expenses.

Footnote: To the credit of Congressman Conable, he set an example by paying his own air fare and returning $117 of his allotment funds to the U.S. embassy in Brussels.

Freeman Editorials

Meany Holds His Fire

Despite unmistakable evidence to the contrary, George Meany, president of the A.F.L.-C.I.O., is not ready to make official the opposition of organized labor to President Nixon's re-election.

The official newspaper of the federation, The A.F.L.-C.I.O. News, carried a statement widely regarded as labor's political stand for the presidential campaign this year, by Alexander Barkan, director of the Committee on Political Education of the federation. Wrote Barkan, "The A.F.L.-C.I.O. has set as its primary political goal in 1972 the defeat of Richard Nixon's bid for re-election."

In a radio interview shortly thereafter, Andrew J. Biemiller, chief lobbyist for the A.F.L.-C.I.O., said, "The labor movement will be out working very hard to elect a new President of the United States."

Nevertheless, Meany stated that any statements made by individuals connected with the A.F.L.-C.I.O. "represent their own personal opinions and do not in any way represent the official A.F.L.-C.I.O. policy."

Of course, it is true that the federation's general board sets high political policy, but men like Barkan and Biemiller do not speak out of turn without the full knowledge and approval of the head of the labor movement. It would be worth their jobs to do so.

Meany is waiting until after the national conventions to make it official, for a very good reason. If the federation spoke out now, Meany would lose whatever leverage he might have in getting the Democratic candidate he and labor want. If any Democrat would do so as a candidate, his support would be taken for granted. As one of the few remaining big political bosses in the country, if not the biggest, Meany cannot afford to be taken for granted. He must remain in a position to dictate his choice.

Flu Peak Peaked

If you haven't been hit by the influenza or other respiratory viruses flitting about, the chances are you have been exposed and you haven't come down with the disease because you have built up an immunity to it. The head of the control services for chronic and communicable diseases in New York City Health Department is of this opinion, and in this instance his conclusion applies everywhere.

There's a lot of flu floating around, not only in the big city, but the country over. The "A-2" strain of influenza, or Asiatic type, has been especially prevalent. But Dr. Aaron Chavez, the health expert, said the incidence of the disease has been a seasonal outbreak, rather than anything approaching epidemic status.

However, Dr. Chavez warned that any weakening of the body's resistance, brought on by prolonged exposure to cold or clammy weather, for instance, could make an individual quickly susceptible to one virus or another. A major worry of health officials is the tendency of the flu virus to change from time to time. A vaccine of one year's strain may not be effective in another.

Now going around are "A-strain" flu virus, which lowers resistance of lungs, making them susceptible to pneumonia; "para-influenza III," a milder virus; "adenovirus," affecting the respiratory tract; and the widely prevalent "mycoplasma pneumoniae," which can be quite severe and cause pneumonia. Let your doctor identify your virus and prescribe the proper treatment.

"SELLING OF THE PRESIDENT"

They've made a musical of the best seller, "The Selling of the President." How President Nixon's image was presented to the public in 1968 is said to "turn its own blinking light on television's seductive hypocrisy." All candidates are going the same route now.

Dr. George H. Gallup is not only an able man but is also as independent-minded as the proverbial hog on ice.

Born in Iowa (the little town of Jefferson), his face as American as old-fashioned apple pie, he usually sits there amiably and says little. He often takes a comment into hiding, and when you have forgotten you made it he replies to it. Out comes a combination of the voice of experience and guts. And his memory for figures is the wonder of his Institute of Public Opinion associates in Princeton, N.J.

Gallup points out that there has been no change in President Nixon's rating since December. Mr. Nixon had then, and has now, an average 50 per cent nationwide approval of his performance in office. In fact, this has remained steadily at about that figure for the last 12 months—a fact which Gallup considers all but astounding.

In his long experience Gallup finds public opinion "a very volatile thing" and cites the swings experienced by President Harry S. Truman as the most dramatic evidence on record.

Mr. Truman received the highest approval of presidential action and performance (87 per cent) ever given in the entire history of the Gallup poll. This was during his first week in the White House. Mr. Truman also received the lowest Gallup rating ever given: 23 per cent. The swing was 64 points.

President John F. Kennedy was second in volatility. His downswing dated from the Bay of Pigs. During his last seven months in office his ratings slid precipitately. His popularity reached the lowest level of his presidential career at the very moment of the Dallas horror. But the ghastly assassination instantly reversed the low estimate of his fitness as president. Overnight, the public response to Mr. Kennedy's presidency zoomed.

President Nixon's popularity, in turn, plummeted 18 points during only the June-July, 1969, period—a drop far sooner in his term than took place for President Johnson in his first term.

Henry Taylor Says

Gallup on the Race

Gallup's political eye is good and his discernment of trends—still invisible to others—is acute. As one result, he will tell you with total conviction that "elections are won between the elections."

He agrees there are notable exceptions and cites the 1960 Kennedy-Nixon race. JFK was well ahead of Mr. Nixon in the Gallup poll until the final week of the fall campaign. Then Mr. Kennedy lost his momentum and nearly blew the election. Likewise in the decisive Indiana primary, Robert F. Kennedy suddenly fell from better than 50 per cent to 42 per cent in the last days of the campaign and did so again in the California primary against Sen. Eugene McCarthy.

But despite such exceptions, Gallup believes people decide their voting choice far earlier than we suppose. "Months and months earlier," he states. And emphasizing that it is, of course, much too soon to score conditions as they will be in November, Gallup nevertheless has some revealing views about the outlook today.

Pointing to the timing, Gallup attached heavy inportance to Sen. Edmund S. Muskie achieving a lead for the first time in the January 23 Gallup poll over Sen. Edward M. Kennedy for the Democratic nomination.

To Gallup this is a "dramatic change." Only last December in his survey Mr. Muskie was seven points behind Mr. Kennedy. Now he is five points ahead. The swing is 12 points. What went wrong for Mr. Kennedy? Gallup does not know. But there is apparently a positive shakeout. Mr. Kennedy now faces a shattered pattern.

Eliminating Mr. Kennedy in the nomination race, Gallup's finding strikes a similar blow since December to Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey.

At today's stage, which Gallup considers critical even though the primaries are still in the future, Mr. Muskie shows up 10 points ahead of Mr. Humphrey. On the same basis of eliminating Mr. Kennedy, Mr. Humphrey led Mr. Muskie by three points only two months ago. The swing is 13 points.

For the presidency, can Mr. Muskie defeat Mr. Nixon? The finding shows that, were the election tomorrow, Mr. Nixon would defeat Mr. Muskie.

Bruce Blossat Says

Country Seeks Deeds, Not Words

WASHINGTON (NEA) — President Nixon's Vietnam peace plan disclosures may go a long way toward disarming his chief Democratic critics, but there is serious doubt whether U.S. voters can be impressed today by anything but a simple move to "bring all the boys home."

For months, national polls have indicated that Americans want to end our military involvement altogether.

I've just been told about a private poll in fairly conservative Iowa, which is said to show that the continuing war is still the paramount issue in voters' minds. Unlike four years ago, high emotion is not the response. It is a pervading weariness. But the calm may be deceptive, for the issue does indeed loom big.

Against this backdrop, the President's intricate, sophisticated eight-point peace plan, offered to Hanoi through private channels, may not make much of dent. People want action, not talk.

Its effect on Nixon's Democratic adversaries, many of them 1972 presidential prospects is something else.

Whatever its plausibility as a real negotiating instrument with the North Vietnamese (who already have rejected it), it is a political masterpiece. It leaves the Democrats on melting ice floes.

Most of this ardently advanced proposals are matched or even surpassed. The President promises a firm date (without naming one) for total U.S. troop withdrawal in exchange for our Red-held prisoners. He suggests a new South Vietnamese election six months after an agreement is signed, and would have the controversial President Thieu resign a month before the vote — to be held under independent and international supervision. He would let our talks with a new government determine how much, if any, military and economic aid we should thereafter provide to Saigon. He recommends cease-fire through Indochina.

So, the President's rivals suddenly find themselves with largely empty Vietnam kits.

There's more. Nixon's disclosures are clearly designed not only to cut away Democratic ground on the war, but to deal with the painful matter of his credibility.

The President was annoyed at Democratic scoffing after he recently told a CBS interviewer that Hanoi had rejected his offer of a troop withdrawal date in exchange for prisoner release. So now we have the President purporting to show he spoke the truth to CBS.

This may be a crucial stroke. There are many seasoned politicians, some in his own party, who think credibility will be the real determinant in this election. President believes there is hurt for him (and the country) in any sudden Saigon collapse. He wants to respond militarily, with air power, to an expected 1972 Hanoi offensive. But he wants the blame to fall on Hanoi.

City Detectives Nab Four

By WALTER S. CLARK

KINGSTON—Continued investigation by Kingston detectives on Monday led to the arrest of a 17-year-old youth and three male juveniles on charges stemming from recent house burglaries in this city. Meanwhile, authorities received reports of two other breakins.

Taken into custody on two counts of burglary third degree and petit larceny, was Paul R. Crawford of 58 St. James Street. He was scheduled to be arraigned before City Judge Hubert A. Richter.

The three boys, two aged 14 and the other 15, will be petitioned into Family Court after further questioning by officers of the Juvenile Aid Bureau of the Police Department, who participated in the investigation that led to the arrests.

Crawford and the juveniles are accused of two burglaries at the residence of Bernard F. Redmond at 40 Dietz Court and a burglary at the home of Clarence Buddenhagen at 109 Orchard Street. They also will be questioned by detectives in connection with other recent unsolved house burglaries.

According to detectives, the four allegedly forced their way into the Redmond home on Dec. 8 and again on Jan. 29. During the early entry items valued at $284 were reportedly stolen, and loot allegedly taken during the other burglary was valued at about $568, according to police, who said most of the missing items had been recovered with the arrests.

At the Buddenhagen home, which was entered on Jan. 13, personal property and cash estimated to value about $400 was taken, authorities noted.

Meanwhile, police were notified Monday that the offices of the Ulster County Community Action Committee at 286 Clinton Avenue, had been burglarized sometime between Jan. 22 and yesterday.

Investigation of the Community Action Committee office burglary disclosed that two portable typewriters valued at $129 each, and two adding machines worth $140 each were stolen. The serial numbers of the typewriters were listed as 6ELK136044 and 6ELK136901. The machines were described as Smith Corona typewriters.

Entry to the office was gained by prying a front door, police noted.

The other burglary reported Monday was at the Hudson Rug Company, 112 North Front Street. Detectives reported that investigation at this time showed nothing of value apparently was missing but an inventory was to be taken.

Entry to the rug company building was made by prying a rear door, authorities reported.

Reservation Deadline Is Nearing

KINGSTON—Reservations for the Feb. 23 testimonial dinner honoring Harry Edinger, director of Environmental Sanitation of Ulster County must be made by Wednesday, Feb. 2.

Dr. Hollis Ingraham, state commissioner of health, will be the guest speaker at the affair to be held 7:30 p.m. at the Walnut Grove, Field Court, Kingston. The cocktail hour will begin at 6:30.

Edinger, a long-time department head in the county Health Department, is retiring after close to 38 years of service in the environmental sanitation field. Prior to his appointment as director of environmental sanitation for the county, he served in the State Health Department as assistant engineer in the Middletown office.

Board Meets

The Gardiner Board will hold its regular monthly meeting at the Gardiner Fire House tonight at 7:30 p.m. Attending, and scheduled to speak at 9 p.m. will be County Legislators Peter J. Savano and Louis Bevier, both District 8 Republicans. They will discuss taxes and answer questions.

Aquarium Meeting

The New Paltz Aquarium Society will meet tonight at 8 p.m. in the old railroad station, Knights of Columbus building, Main Street in New Paltz. Those interested in tropical fish hobby may attend. There will be a special program and refreshments.

Mrs. Helen Mott Garrabrant

Mrs. Helen Mott Garrabrant, 68, of 164 Fair Street, died Monday morning at Kingston Hospital after a short illness. She was a communicant of St.

Mary's Church and the wife of Wilson Garrabrant who died in 1958. Mrs. Garrabrant is survived by three daughters, Mrs. John Wells, Ulster Park; Shirley, wife of Leonard Wells, Port Jervis; and Miss Elaine O'Neill of Wassaic. Six grandchildren also survive. Entrusted to the care of the Keyser Funeral Service, Kingston Chapel, Albany and Manor Avenues, where the cortege will form Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. and proceed to St. Mary's Church where at 11 a.m. a Mass of the Resurrection will be offered for the repose of her soul. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery. Friends may call at the Kingston Chapel this evening 7 to 9.

County Man Nabbed for Grand Larceny

KINGSTON—A 33-year-old Woodstock man was arrested Monday by Kingston detectives on a charge of grand larceny third degree as the result of a police investigation.

Vincent Coons of Box 261, Woodstock, was accused of using checks in the total amount of $688 that had been turned over to him by the Court Restaurant management for tax purposes. Police said Coons was acting as accountant for the Wall Street restaurant.

According to police, blank checks totaling $1,500 had been turned over to Coons by the restaurant management to pay taxes. The larceny charge at this time involves the $688 figure, authorities said.

Coons was slated for arraignment in City Court. The investigation is continuing.

Ulster Farmers Set Aside Program Starts

KINGSTON—Ulster County farmers who plan to enroll in the 1972 set-aside program may sign up beginning Feb. 3 according to David Squires, county executive director for the Ulster County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The sign-up dates have been changed to run from Feb. 3 to March 10. During this period the county office, 54 John Street, will accept signups and stand ready to answer any questions concerning the program.

Squires emphasized that the sign-up period is earlier than usual and that no extensions of the March 10 deadline will be made.

Farmers who know they will be out of the county during the sign-up period may arrange with the county office to sign up by mail or other procedure.

Since no extension of the March 10 deadline will be made, Ulster County farmers can insure their participation by enrolling early in the sign up period.

Woodstock League Plans Discussion

WOODSTOCK—Congressional discussion will be featured at the February meeting of the Woodstock League of Women Voters set for Thursday, Feb. 3, at the Woodstock Dutch Reformed Church, Tinker Street.

Mrs. W. Jack Kahn, program chairman and Mrs. Patrick Rivelli, chairman of the Congressional Kem Group will present Part II of the discussion at the 1 p.m. meeting.

Action on the consensus questions issued by the National League of Women Voters will be taken by the League members. Consensus questions are acted upon by the branch leagues of the United States only after a thorough study of the specific item. Based on the reaction of the majority of leagues National adopts a position on the particular item and then will conduct active lobbying for constructive national legislation.

Youth Indicted By Grand Jury

KINGSTON—A 17-year-old Town of Saugerties youth who escaped from custody while on the way back to the county jail from a dentist's office on Wall Street last Nov. 29, was indicted Monday by a Supreme Court Grand Jury.

Wesley Earl Davis Jr., whose address was given as the Tri-County Zoo, Town of Saugerties, was indicted on a charge of escape second degree and petit larceny. The indictment was returned to Justice Louis G. Bruhn with other indictments and not found bills.

On Nov. 29, Davis in custody of Deputy Sheriff Frank Calnan was taken to the dentist's office to have a tooth extracted. He was wearing handcuffs as Calnan was walking him back to jail when the youth suddenly bolted on Wall at Main Street and fled on foot.

An alarm was sent out as Calnan pursued the escapee. State Police and several deputies joined in the manhunt which led to an area in the vicinity of East Chester Street bypass. Calnan spotted the youth running in a wooded area.

Police hemmed the escapee in as searchers followed his foot prints in the snow. Davis, who also is known as Ross, was later captured by State Police as he attempted to steal a car at Spiegel Brothers on Albany Avenue extension, where he had been chased by Calnan and other deputies.

Also indicted was Anthony Mikalajunas, an inmate at a state institution at Napanoch who was named defendant charged with two counts of second degree assault. Authorities said the inmate was accused of assaulting two guards at the institution. Details of the incident have not been made public.

Harry Hoover Jr., of Ellenville, was indicted on three counts of forgery second degree, involving the alleged issuance of forged checks at Tamarack Lodge.

One sealed indictment was included in the report to Justice Bruhn. The cases have been referred to county court for disposition before Judge Raymond J. Mino.

Heavy Turnout Seen On Waste Water Bids

KINGSTON—City officials, expecting a heavy turnout of bidders on the proposed $2,572,000 secondary waste water treatment facility on The Strand, will open bids in the Common Council Chambers tomorrow at 2 p.m. instead of in the mayor's office as previously planned.

Bids will be opened in four separate areas: general construction; heating and ventilation; plumbing and electrical. The Kingston engineering firm of Brinnier and Larios designed the project.

Mayor Francis R. Koenig expressed some concern on the possibility of the combined bids coming in above the $2,572,000 budgeted for the project. "The question is if it comes in over where do we go from there," Koenig said.

The city's share of the project is $1,028,000 with the state and federal governments paying an equal share of $767,000. Koenig has been less than enthusiastic about increasing the debt of the city, now at almost $1.9 million, by another million dollars, but reasons that he has no choice.

The new treatment plant was mandated by the state in 1968 when the state charged the city with polluting the Rondout Creek at its primary sewage treatment plant on The Strand. The city agreed in court, in December of 1969, that it had been polluting the Rondout, clearing the way for the design of the new plant and the approval of state and federal funds for it.

State Recommends Repeal Of Small Pox Vaccination

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)—Smallpox, which has not claimed a victim in New York State for nearly a quarter of a century, appears to be virtually eliminated in the United States and as a result the State Health Department will recommend repeal of the now required smallpox vaccination for school children.

Dr. Hollis Ingraham, commissioner, announced the step Monday, but also cautioned that parents should use their own judgment, after consulting with doctors, about having children immunized.

Area Youth Is Critical

TOWN OF NEW PALTZ—A 19-year-old Walkill youth was in critical condition today at Kingston Hospital suffering multiple injuries sustained late Monday night in a spectacular one-car traffic accident that occurred on Route 208 in the Town of New Paltz.

Although Casaba S. Papp of Walkill was wearing a seat belt as he drove along the highway, he received numerous injuries, it was reported.

Papp was pinned in the badly damaged vehicle as it hung precariously over a wall 40 feet above a creek for about 45 minutes before he was extricated by New Paltz Town Patrolmen John Savago and Dennis Zappone, Dr. Herbert Weinman of New Paltz and Richard Mertine of Fatum's Ambulance service, who later rushed the injured youth to the hospital.

Mertine said Papp was driving along the highway about one-quarter mile south of Jansen Road shortly before 11:30 p.m. when the vehicle went out of control and overturned landing on its roof on a bridge abutment. Mertine said that emergency treatment was administered by Dr. Weinman who was summoned to the scene. The ambulance attendant provided oxygen for the badly injured motorist.

It was reported that the engine of the car was ripped out by the force of the impact.

Papp suffered severe lacerations of the forehead caused by a guard rail. He also received a crushed arm, serious injuries of the hips, multiple lacerations and possible internal injuries.

FUNERAL NOTICES

GARRABRANT—At rest, Jan. 31, 1972. Mrs. Helen Mott Garrabrant of 164 Fair Street; mother of Mrs. Joan Wells, Mrs. Leonard (Shirley) Wells and Miss Elaine O'Neill.

Entrusted to the care of the Keyser Funeral Service, Kingston Chapel, Albany and Manor Avenues, where the cortege will form on Wednesday, 10:30 a.m., and proceed to St. Mary's Church where at 11 a.m. a Mass of the Resurrection will be offered for the repose of her soul. Interment in St. Mary's Cemetery. The family will receive their friends at the Kingston Chapel Tuesday 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Memoriam

In loving memory of Joseph F. Lamphere who passed away 10 years ago today, February 1, 1962.

seal of the now required smallpox vaccination for school children.

Ingraham noted the U.S. Public Health Service recently recommended against continued immunizations, because the disease has declined world wide, and because there is a small risk through the immunization itself.

"However," Ingraham added, "there are still some minimum precautions that must be taken in New York State if we are to protect ourselves from a potential outbreak of this dread disease."

He said persons who work at health and travel facilities, and those planning to go overseas, should consult physicians about being immunized.

Until the smallpox law is repealed, physicians may certify that immunizing a certain child could threaten his health.

Current law requires school children to be immunized against smallpox, polio, measles, German measles, and diphtheria.

The last recorded outbreak of smallpox in the state was in New York City in 1947, when two deaths occurred out of 12 cases.

C-H Agrees To Drop Suit

POUGHKEEPSIE—Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation reported today that it had agreed with Amerada Hess Corporation to discontinue the pending lawsuit between the two companies which was based on the demand of Amerada Hess Corporation for an increase in fuel price over that provided in their current contract. Under this agreement, this price increase has been waived, effective from the inception of the demand and for the future.

"It is gratifying," said Ernest E. Althouse, President of Central Hudson, "that the interests of our customers are being protected through the avoidance of a major increase in fuel costs."

Drug Commission Now Has New Director

KINGSTON—Ulster County's Drug Commission has a new director, named at a recent meeting of the County Legislature. He is Michael K. Wood of Woodbourne, a Kingston native and graduate of St. Mary's School and Kingston High School.

The 31-year-old father of two received his BS degree in administration from Ithaca College in 1969 where he was sophomore class president and a member of Delta Kappa Fraternity and American Management Association.

He served six years in the U.S. Army between 1961 and 1967, and was trained at Brooke Army Medical Center in Texas as an advanced pharmacy specialist. Later he served in medical dispensaries and hospitals in South Korea, California, New York and South Vietnam, performing duties closely paralleling a registered pharmacist.

During his tour in Vietnam, he was requested by Gen. William C. Westmoreland, to assess the drug problem among servicemen and to prepare educational programs for the military police on drug abuse.

Voter Cards Mailed in Ulster

KINGSTON—right to vote in the presidential election in November. A total of 2,760 cards have been mailed to Ulster County voters, who have not cast ballots in the last two years, and these people have until Monday, Feb. 14, to respond or lose their right to vote.

The card has three questions:
• Do you still reside at the address listed on the front of the card?
• Do you still qualify as an Ulster County voter?

• Do you wish to have your registration continued?
The answer to these questions will determine if the name will be replaced on the active registration rolls.
Those residents who are interested in casting ballots in the Nov. 1972 presidential elections must act immediately and return the cards properly noting their status.
If there is no response to the card, the resident will be automatically removed from the active voting lists, and would be forced to re-register in order to vote.
The Board of Elections is open daily from 9 to 5 p.m.

Area College Trustees To Address Session

NEW YORK CITY—Two trustees of local colleges will address sessions of the eighth annual Regents Conference on The Leadership Role of the Trustee, which will be held Thursday, Feb. 10, at the Hilton Hotel in New York City.

About 500 college and university administrators and trustees are expected to attend. Dr. William Hagerty, trustee of Ulster County Community College, will be the speaker at a session devoted to The Trustee and Collective Bargaining with the Faculty. Annunciata Costa, a council member of the State University College at New Paltz, will be the moderator of the session on The Trustee and the Recruitment of a Chief Executive Officer.

The purpose of the meeting, according to John R. Haines, director of higher education management services for the State Education Department, is to familiarize college trustees with all aspects of current and anticipated problems in higher education and to focus attention on the role of the trustee in providing educational leadership.

AT PLAY — Undismayed by his disqualification on pro charges, Austrian skier Karl Schranz bides his time with some soccer by-play with teammates in Olympic Village at Sapporo, Japan. The Austrian alpine ski team stayed away from official practice to protest the IOC's decision to oust Schranz. (UPI)

Shuffles to Buffalo

Patulski Is First NFL Draft Pick

By JOE CARNICELLI
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Walt Patulski today became the first Notre Dame player in 22 years to be made the No. 1 choice when the Buffalo Bills selected the All-America defensive end to open the 1972 College Player Draft.

Patulski, a 6-foot-6, 250-pounder from Liverpool, N.Y., started every game in his three varsity seasons at Notre Dame and was one of the main reasons why the Fighting Irish ranked among the nation's top 10 defensive teams. He ranked fourth on the club in tackles last season with 74, threw opponents for 129 yards in losses and broke up six games. Despite the fact that Notre Dame has traditionally been one of the leading producers of pro talent, Patulski, who was selected Lineman of the Year last season for his outstanding play, is the first Fighting Irish player to be made the first pick since Heisman Trophy winner Leon Hart in 1950.

The Cincinnati Bengals, seeking to bolster their defensive line, took Sherman White, a 6-5, 245 lb. defensive tackle from California. White arrived at California as a basketball player before turning his interest to football. He never played high school football, but they laid out a $300,000 contract is regarded as one of the best pass rushers in the collegiate ranks.

Chicago, using a choice obtained from the New York Giants, took Lionel Antoine, a 6-7, 240-lb. offensive tackle from Southern Illinois. Antoine was a star tight end for the Salukis until the 1971 season when he moved to offensive tackle. A rugged blocker, he is also a possibility for the defensive line.

Patulski, a 6-foot-6, 260-pounder rated the best athlete available in a lean college crop, has been quoted in the weeks leading up to the draft as saying: "I don't care where I play. I don't mind the cold at all. But if it's true some of the things I've heard about what the pros paid top choices last year, I'm going to have to think things over."

The suggestion there is that Patulski feels the contracts offered No. 1 draft choices last year were low and that he might be forced to consider the Montreal Alouettes, who hold the rights to him in the Canadian Football League.

But it isn't considered likely that the Bills would let money stand in the way of signing Patulski. Just three drafts ago

Patulski, of course, doesn't figure to command that much as a defensive player, but he is such an outstanding talent that he figured to be the first defender selected No. 1 since Baltimore took Bubba Smith in 1967.

Giants Trade Dryer

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Giants today traded defensive end Fred Dryer to the New England Patriots for the Patriots' first pick today at the annual National Football League draft meeting and two other draft choices. The Giants also obtained the Patriots' sixth round pick at this session and the No. 2 pick for 1973.

Dryer, 6-5, 245 pounds, was the Giants' first draft choice three years ago but fell out of favor with management for his outspoken remarks. He openly criticized the club's coaches and to refuse to conform with the club's dress code.

Dryer has been the Giants' outstanding defensive lineman for the last three years. In exchange, the Giants received the No. 17 pick in the first round today, a choice the Patriots acquired from Los Angeles.

SAPPORO, Japan (AP) — Officials of the Austrian Ski Federation said today that the executive board of the International Olympic Committee had rejected an appeal to reinstate Austrian skier Karl Schranz in the Winter Olympic Games.

Schranz was disqualified Monday because he sold his name and photograph for commercial advertising.

Dr. Rudolf Nemetschke, Austrian member of the IOC, proposed today that the decision be rescinded.

A spokesman for the Austrian Ski Federation told newsmen "the IOC executive board has rejected the appeal. That means that Schranz must leave the Olympic Village."

The spokesman added that the Austrian Federation had not yet decided what step to take next.

Before the IOC ruled on the Schranz case the Austrian Ski Federation had threatened that all its skiers would withdraw from the Winter Games if any one of them was disqualified.

Schranz was one of about 40 skiers from different European countries who were being investigated by the IOC for alleged commercialism.

Austrian sources had said earlier that the IOC reopened the Schranz case after accepting a motion by Nemetschke for such action.

Blast By Peggy

SAPPORO, Japan (UPI) — Former Olympic figure skating champion Peggy Fleming said today International Olympic Committee President Avery Brundage "doesn't have any type of compassion" for athletes because he has never had to struggle for a living.

Brundage, in a general attack on the Winter Olympics at the opening of the IOC session Saturday, said that Miss Fleming had taken advantage of her 1968 Olympic victory at Grenoble to sign a $500,000 professional contract.

The 84-year-old Chicago millionaire also led the attack to kick Austrian skiing star Karl Schranz out of the Games because he allowed his name and picture to be used for commercial purposes. Brundage long has claimed that Winter Olympics are too "professional."

"I don't know if he really understands how people have to struggle because he's never really had to do it," Miss Fleming said. "It's sad to be a person like that that doesn't have any type of compassion for other people that don't have it as good."

Miss Fleming refused to confirm the $500,000 figure used by Brundage in his speech.

"It was very substantial and that's coming very close," she said. "I felt very satisfied with the contract I did get."

The pert skating star said that she had worked very hard as an amateur in an attempt to be a good sports ambassador. "It makes me mad that he would pick on me, because I've tried extremely hard to be a good representative. I've seen so often the ugly American coming to Europe and I tried the hardest I could to be a good representative.

Four-Year Contract

"Wow, what more does he want?"

Miss Fleming said she signed a four-year skating contract with Bob Banner Associates of Beverly Hills well after winning her Olympic victory.

"I was not a professional until six months after the Olympics, and that's a long time," she said. "In a lot of ways it's harder work than being an amateur skater."

Her contract with Banner places her in two ice shows in the United States and on a U.S. television network, she said, at the end of 1972, she will go to "different things."

KHS Swimmers Romp

NEWBURGH — Kingston High's powerful swim team captured both relays and nine of 11 first places in a smash Newburgh Free Academy 67-28 and score its sixth straight win of the 1971-72 campaign here Monday.

The key to the lopsided Maroon victory was the 200 yard medley relay, where Coach Ron Gabriele gambled by using his four top swimmers to counter the same strategy by NFA Coach Bob Minerly.

"This was a very big victory for us," said Coach Gabriele. "Last week was 'Newburgh Week' in practice — the kids were up for this one. Anytime Kingston and Newburgh get together throw out the records," Gabriele admitted that "we were a bit worried about them, but winning the first relay and sweeping first and second in the next two events gave us the impetus we needed and a 232 lead. This was a great clutch team effort and I'm proud of the way the kid reacted to the pressure."

Claude Landerway remained undefeated for KHS but had to fight off a stiff challenge from NFA's fine backstroke Tim Claflin. They were even through the first 50 yards but "Red Cloud" pulled away in the second 50 to win handily. Landerway finished at 1:06.2 and Claflin at 1:08.2. Claude Kingston and Newburgh get and a double winner for the sixth straight meet.

KHS at Roosevelt; OCS Plays New Paltz

Coleman High Engages Powerful Highland '5'

KINGSTON

A slate of UCAL games pitting division rivals against each other and the return of Kingston High to the court highlight the area high school basketball scene tonight.

Dick Becker will bring second place Highland (7-3) into Kingston for a battle with third place Coleman (6-4), as the Blue and Statesmen try to pick up some ground on UCAL South leader Ellenville (8-2).

In the UCAL North, Ontario (4-6) invades New Paltz (6-4) in hopes of closing in on the second place Hugies. Neither team figures to gain on powerhouse Liberty (10-0), who will be at Rondout (3-7).

Kingston will be at Roosevelt in their first game since defeating Newburgh on Jan. 21st. The Maroon face a rival they will see often in the future, as they prepare themselves to enter the DCSL next fall.

The Highlanders will be trying to rebound from their upset loss to Ellenville on Saturday. Coleman will have to hope that the up and down Big Blue are down, since they will be physically outmanned by a Highland club anchored by Perry and Ron Monroe.

The Ontario-New Paltz game should be as hotly contested as their first meeting in Boiceville. Hugie coach Frank Davis surely remembers that one because the Indian's Dan Brown led a big surge that wiped out an apparent New Paltz victory.

Ontario's record is deceiving because it includes the three contests they forfeited due to an ineligible player. Ron Pape has the Indians in top form now however, and they can still make it to the runner-up spot.

In other UCAL action, Walkkill (1-9) will be at Pine Bush (0-10) and Red Hook (6-4) travels to Marlboro (4-6). In non-league games, Fallsburgh will host Ellenville and Catskill entertains Saugerties.

Squeaker for Cavs

Clemson managed to do a lot in its game against Virginia Monday night.

But it's what the team didn't do that enabled the ninth-ranked Cavaliers to come away with a 62-58 victory.

For instance, the Tigers were down by only two points at 60-58 with a minute to play. The Clemson defense had held Cavalier All-America guard Barry Parkhill to just eight points.

Then their dreams of an upset victory vanished.

Trailing by two, Clemson worked the ball for a good percentage shot—and missed. The Tigers missed a follow-up attempt with 20 seconds to go. The Cavaliers claimed the rebound, and when Clemson was forced to foul Parkhill, he dropped in two free throws with four seconds remaining to insure the win.

The 10 points represented Parkhill's lowest total of the season.

Mobgood Scores 12

Virginia was led by Jim Mobgood with 12 points, while Dave Angel and Terrell Suit shared Tiger scoring honors with 15 points each.

No. 11 Florida State dominated its contest with Pan American University as the Seminoles romped to a 109-83 victory to run their record to 18-3.

Five Florida State players were in double figures and the Seminoles controlled the backboards, 61-41, as they dropped the Broncos to 11-3.

Roland Garrett and Otto Petty scored career highs of 29 and 24 points and Reggie Royals chipped in with 21. Lawrence McCrav had 15 and Ron Harris hit 10. Royals also hauled down 20 rebounds. Garrett had 14 and Ron King 10. Reese Stovall paced Pan America with 25 points.

The 17th-ranked Jacksonville Dolphins had a scare thrown into them by a battling Furman quintet before managing a 91-90 victory for their 13th win in 15 games.

The Dolphins led, 83-76, before Russ Hunt sparked a late Furman surge that saw the margin pared to 91-90. The Paladins had a chance to win but threw the ball out of bounds with 12 seconds remaining.

The Dolphins trailed by 12 points midway through the first half before seven-foot Dave Brent's basket gave them a 62-61 lead with 13:02 left in the game. Furman was never able to regain the advantage.

In Other Contests

In other contests, Maryland edged North Carolina State 66-65, in an Atlantic Coast Conference game. Kentucky slipped by Alabama, 77-74. Louisiana State ripped Tennessee, 63-62, and Cincinnati romped over a cold-shooting William & Mary team, 65-52.

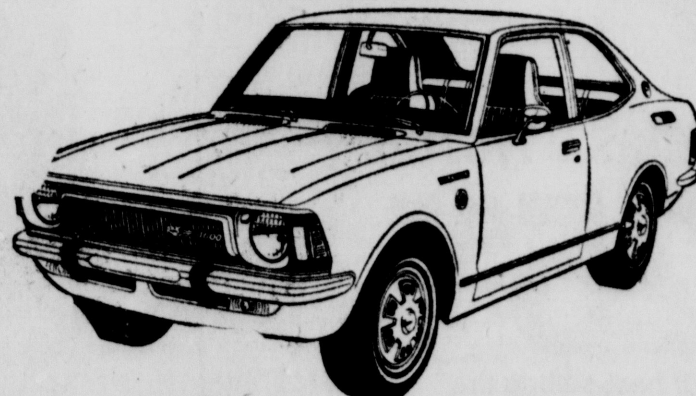

John Coughran's 47-point scoring explosion—the highest ever for a Golden Bear—went for nought as California was defeated by Utah State, 96-87.

St. John's (N.Y.) handily defeated Rhode Island, 83-73. Biscayne whipped St. Peter's (N.J.), 108-85, for its eighth consecutive win, and Western Kentucky tipped Murray State, 71-70. Niagara, with six men in double figures, ended Dayton's four-game winning streak, 82-69, and St. Bonaventure overcame the University of South Florida, 90-74, in a doubleheader at Buffalo, N.Y.

Lane, Kuhn Chide Sports Polls

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Frank Lane remembers the time he wanted to take a survey.

He went to this Chicago firm, asked the people there for a price, got it and said okay.

"I told them exactly what I had in mind," says Lane, chairman of the American League's realignment committee at the time. "I was interested in possible sites for future American League clubs. Primarily, cities. When I got all through explaining, they said fine, but they had one question. I said okay, what was it? They then put it to me very plainly—what was I trying to establish? It was that simple. As long as I was paying for the survey, they wanted to make absolutely sure to please me by what they found out."

Frank Lane, director of Milwaukee's baseball operations, laughs when he tells the story.

Polls Are Shaded
He does not say all polls are rigged, but he does say they're shaded. He says it's their period when the polls were findings are going to hurt the business of the individual or corporation paying them to go out and make the survey, do you for one minute think those paying the tab are going to make those findings public? Who knows, they may even look for another survey taker.

Bowie Kuhn, the baseball commissioner, is saying pretty much the same thing about the NFL paid to have taken four weeks ago and which showed, for the second time in as many years, the more people in this country favor football than baseball.

The fact an independent Gallup Poll, conducted a week before the Super Bowl game, also showed football in front, doesn't impress Kuhn much.

"I think," he says, "you have to view polls as an effort to set forth a point of view. I doubt myself that the science is sufficiently exact to give us very meaningful results at this time."

Whether baseball or football is actually the national pastime of the moment, to Kuhn makes a big point of actually is of small moment. To conducted and it's a valid point, me, settling that question is as pointless as determining which is more popular, kissing or hugging?

Other Way Around
"I am told Pete acknowledges if the poll were taken in July the results would've been the other way around," says Kuhn. "I think so, too."

Please, fellows, let's not get so worked up about this. Football is an excellent game and so is baseball, but deep down I have a gnawing suspicion 600-million Chinese Communists couldn't care less which game is rated No. 1. They'd probably vote for ping pong.

I don't think it's too much different in this country. People don't care that much whether baseball is more popular than football or vice versa. The people who seem to care most are those in the high executive positions of each sport, or the promoters, and they should be in mind they are merely the caretakers, that's all.

Whether baseball or football is actually the national pastime of the moment, to Kuhn makes a big point of actually is of small moment. To me, settling that question is as pointless as determining which is more popular, kissing or hugging?

I say they're both good. So are basketball, ice hockey, golf, tennis, water polo and all the other sports further down on all those totem polls.

Baseball happens to be the game I like most, but how can I possibly argue with a Garo Yepremian, who tells me, in his opinion, there is no game to compare with football, or a Jerry West, who says the same thing about basketball. I like those games, too; but you know how it is—different courses for different horses.

Bowie Kuhn is a man not ordinarily given to heated argument and the same can be said for Pete Rozelle. Both have that nice quiet judicial temperament.

As pointless as it is to haggle over who's No. 1 and who's No. 2, I sort of enjoyed the baseball commissioner's letting his hair down a little Monday and challenging the football commissioner, who is a good friend I asked Kuhn if he expected

"Then again," he added, smiling, "I wouldn't be surprised if Walter (Kennedy) and Clarence (Campbell) would be heard from also. Either one may say 'Here, here.'"

Oh those commissioners. Each leads such a tough life.

Squires Get Cage Lesson

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Virginia Squires learned the hard way that Bob Netolicky bears watching on the basketball court.

Indiana's Netolicky had averaged a mere seven points in two previous American Basketball Association contests against Virginia, giving the Squires little cause for concern Monday night.

By the time they learned their lesson Netolicky scored 26 points and snared 20 rebounds in leading the Pacers to a 123-115 triumph over Virginia.

In the night's other ABA game, Zelmo Beaty tossed in 34 points and snared a career-high 27 rebounds as the Utah Stars crushed the Carolina Cougars 135-115.

Netolicky canned two straight field goals at the end of the third period and poured in eight more points early in the fourth stanza to erase an 83-80 Virginia lead. The Squires' Charlie Scott led all scorers with 37 points.

"Our domination of the boards was of course the biggest key to the game," Utah Coach LaDell Anderson said. "I'm also pleased with our 35 assists, which is better than we've been doing."

Utah outrebounded the Cougars 78-48 and every Star scored, with Willie Wise accounting for 23 and four players hitting 14 each.

Utah broke the game open midway in the last period with 11 consecutive points, and with a 120-102 advantage with 4:34 left, allowed the reserves to ice the game.

Bart Retiring

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Bart Starr, the prolific play-caller of the Green Bay Packers, says he will call it quits after the coming season, but only if he is physically able to play during the year.

In an interview Monday night with The Associated Press, Starr, 38, said the time had come for him to decide definitely his future as a professional football player.

It was the first time that Starr, the gifted Packer veteran who guided the National Football League team to Super Bowl victories in 1967 and 1968 had flatly acknowledged he would retire after the 1972 season.

"It's time to make that particular decision," he said, stressing that his brilliant career would end only if his health holds up and he is able to play during the coming season.

Starr disclosed the news while in Nashville, Tenn., for a speaking engagement.

Yankees at Shea For 1974-75

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Mets baseball team has agreed to allow the New York Yankees to play at Shea Stadium for the 1974 and 1975 seasons provided the city follows through with plans to buy and renovate Yankee Stadium.

The agreement to share Shea was announced Monday by Michael Burke, president of the Yankees, and confirmed by M. Donald Grant, board chairman of the Mets who in the past had staunchly opposed the arrangement.

However, Grant cautioned, "we want to be sure before we go through with this that the negotiations will not bog down."

It would not be a permanent arrangement, Grant said, because "it has been demonstrated before in other cities that two teams cannot occupy a park successfully."

McKinney on Third

NEW YORK (AP) — Rich McKinney, obtained by the New York Yankees from the Chicago White Sox in a deal for pitcher Stan Bahnsen, says he hopes to become a regular at third base this season.

McKinney, a native of Piqua, Ohio, saw most action at second base last season, playing 67 games at that position. He played only five games at third base and 25 in the outfield. He batted .271.

Japanese Bowler Holds World Record 899

Tokyo Boasts 300-Lane Building

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Sports Editor

KINGSTON

Tokyo, Japan is the largest city in the world and it figures you might find the world's largest bowling establishment. Well, you can. It's a 300-lane block-buster with 30 lanes on each of 10 floors.

But a Japanese bowler holding the world record for three league games? It's hard to believe but the answer again is yes, according to Jim Schroeder of the AMF Staff of Champions, who addressed the Kingston Bowling Association's Hall of Fame installation dinner Saturday night at the Walnut Grove.

There is no league bowling at the 300-lane emporium, just open play and occasional tournaments. "They don't have sanctioned leagues like we do," Schroeder told the 125 persons who turned out to greet new Hall of Fame inductees Thomas Carlinio, James A. Mendola, George Robinson, Clarence Buddenhagen and Kenneth Van Etten.

The all-time ABC-sanctioned record for three games in the United States is held by Allie Brandt of Lockport, N. Y., who rolled 289, 297, 200-886 several years ago. The unidentified Japanese kegler rolled 300, 300 and 299, leaving the 4-pin on his 16th ball in a tournament.

Schroeder predicted that bowling would achieve world-wide stature within the next 10 years through the FIQ (Federation Internationale Quilliers). The U.S. hosted the FIQ international competition with more than 35 countries sending teams.

"I still don't think bowling is getting the recognition it deserves," Schroeder observed.

"But we've come a long way since 1958 when 28 of us put up $100 each to get the Professional Bowlers Association organized."

Since that modest beginning—$25,000 in prizes for the full first year—the PBA has grown to a membership of more than 700, under Eddie Elias. The PBA is staging 38 tournaments with $1,500,000 in prizes. The Firestone Tournament of Champions at Akron is worth $125,000 and the U.S. Open $100,000.

ABC membership has now passed the five million mark. Schroeder noted, with WIBC now boasting more than four million. "It's just a matter of time before there are more women bowlers than men bowlers," he predicted. "Incidentally, in Japan the women bowlers are the stars, not the men. The KBA installation dinner attracted one of the largest attendances in recent years. Among the guests present were Charles Ehrens, of New York

City, a national director of the American Bowling Congress; Mrs. Alicia Lozier, president of the Kingston Woman's Bowling Association; Mrs. Nell Glennon, past president of the KWBA; and Addison Jones, New York

State Bowling Association past president and director. Carlo Perry, KBA president, welcomed the group. Gerald Smith was chairman of the dinner and Charles J. Tiano, chairman of the Hall of Fame Board, was the toastmaster.

CYO Sets Major Tourney

KINGSTON The largest CYO basketball tournament in area history has been announced by two Kingston schools and is scheduled to begin at St. Mary's school gym on Feb. 14.

St. Mary's and St. Joseph's will conduct the Kingston Invitational Tournament, hosting 35 teams from 12 Hudson valley schools, Donald J. Kiernan, tournament director announced.

About 525 boys will vie for trophies that will be awarded to teams and individuals in each of five divisions competing. First, second, third and fourth place trophies will be awarded in all divisions, along with individual prizes. A total of 170 trophies will be at stake.

The entries by division follow: Small Fry — St. Mary's, Kingston; St. Mary's, Kingston; Immaculate Conception, Kingston; Regina Coeli, Hyde Park; St. Mary's, Fishkill; St. Columbia, Hopewell Junction; St. Patrick's, Catskill and Sacred Heart of Highland Falls.

Tyros — St. Mary's, K; St. Joseph's, K; St. Mary's, Fishkill; Most Precious Blood, Walden; St. Mary's, Washingtonville; St. Mary's, Wappingers Falls; St. Mary's, Fishkill No. 2.

Jayvees — St. Mary's, K; St. Joseph's, K; St. Patrick's, St. Columbia, St. Mary's, Fishkill; St. Mary's, Wappingers; Regina Coeli, Hyde Park and St. John's, Beacon.

Varsity — St. Joseph's, K; Presentation, Port Ewen; St. Mary's, Wappingers Falls; Sacred Heart, Highland Falls.

Juniors — St. Mary's, K; Immaculate Conception, K; Presentation Port Ewen, St. Patrick's, St. John's, Beacon, St. Mary's Wappingers and St. Martin's, Poughkeepsie.

"We got splendid cooperation from all the teams we approached," said Kiernan, "and we're looking forward to a lively tournament."

St. Mary's of Kingston hosts the first two games on Feb.

14, a Small Fry battle between Regina Coeli and Immaculate Conception at 7 p.m. and a Tyro contest between St. Mary's Wappingers and St. Joseph's, Kingston, at 8:30 p.m.

The finals in the Junior and Varsity divisions are scheduled for March 4 at the municipal auditorium. Small Fry, Tyros and Jayvees championships will be decided March 5 at St. Mary's gym.

NOTICE OF CHANGE IN GAS RATE SCHEDULE

On January 14, 1972, Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation filed with the Public Service Commission of the State of New York amendments to its gas rate schedule effective February 18, 1972. Said amendments provide that:

(A) The company will attach new gas customers to the extent possible within the Company's available gas supply and in accordance with the provisions of this tariff if:

(I) the gas is to be used for domestic purposes other than space heating; or

(II) the gas is to be used for domestic space heating and the gas supplied through a single meter is used to supply heat to two or more dwelling units; or

(III) the gas is to be used for commercial cooking in a dining establishment; or

(IV) the supply of gas was committed prior to October 26, 1971; or

(V) the customer had incurred or made irrevocable commitments to incur costs for the planning or installation of gas utilization equipment prior to October 26, 1971; or

(VI) the customer has full facilities to burn an alternate fuel in lieu of gas.

(B) The Company will limit the supply of additional gas volumes to existing firm gas customers, to existing firm gas customers, homes and other domestic customers which are individually metered, in the following manner:

Your Horoscope

Wednesday, February 2

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You find that the morning starts off on a note of speed and efficiency but by early afternoon interferences start cropping up. This can be annoying but are actually good opportunities for you to manifest them. You can be most helpful to you in the future. Take them in your stride and this becomes a happy day for you. Show courtesy to others.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) If you use that charm you possess for constructive purposes instead of wasting it in wrong directions, this could be the start of a new upturn in your life. Avoid arguments.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Study the time element where today's activities are concerned. This is the key to success. Stop trying to put your points across in a devious way. An honest approach is best.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You may have had a big disappointment yesterday but make the most of it. Take care of obligations ahead of you, then spend quiet evening with mate.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) If you think most where your personal life is concerned, you can take the right steps in such direction. Show that you are sure of yourself.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) A good day to get much done around your home that is of a constructive nature and increase harmony there. Avoid arguing with kin. Instead, use that gentle manner you reserve for a few.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) If you get together with experts, you can get the advice you need for adding to present income. For success you must be willing to work harder. Avoid temper tantrums.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You can go directly to an expert in the morning who can be of great assistance to you in business affairs. Come directly to the point for best results. Relax with mate tonight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) There is one in your family who is giving you some trouble. If you look at the situation objectively instead of emotionally you can solve it wisely. Try to cooperate more.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Many ideas pop into your head, but you have to distinguish the good from the bad and then put the right ones in operation. Obtain opinions of persons you highly respect.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) If you contact the powerful person you know, you can get the backing you need to solve a pressing problem.

The right advice could be invaluable. Don't neglect correspondence.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You are gregarious by nature and can now have a fine day contacting those persons you want to see. Manage your affairs so you have plenty of free time. Show that you have ability.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You have a financial lack. This can be offset by making the proper contacts and increasing your income. You can be successful if you stop being fearful. Know your capabilities.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those clever young people whose mind is at work almost from the moment of birth. Be sure to plan now for a good college education and a successful life is assured. A fine artist is in this chart. Give good spiritual training.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU! Carroll Righter's Individual Forecast for your sign for February is now ready. For your copy, send your birthdate and $1 to Carroll Righter Forecast, The Daily Freeman, Box 629, Hollywood, Calif. 90028.

Vietnam Peace Proposal...A Comparison

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Here in condensed form is a point-by-point comparison of the eight-point American and South Vietnam peace plan disclosed last week and the nine-point North Vietnamese plan presented to the United States in a secret meeting last June 26 and disclosed Monday.

The North Vietnamese points 3 and 4 cover basically the same ground as American point 3 and are combined for comparison.

American 1. Total withdrawal from South Vietnam of all U.S. forces and other foreign forces allied with the government of South Vietnam within six months of an agreement.

North Vietnamese 1. Withdrawal of totality of U.S. forces and those of other foreign countries in U.S. camp from South Vietnam and other Indochinese countries should be completed within 1971.

American 2. Release of all military men and innocent civilians captured throughout Indochina carried out parallel with troop withdrawals. Both sides present complete list of those held throughout Indochina on day agreement is signed.

North Vietnamese 2. Release of all military men and civilians captured in the war carried out parallel with troop withdrawal.

American 3. Political future of South Vietnam will be left for South Vietnamese people to decide, free from outside interference, in a free and democratic presidential election within six months of an agreement. The election will be run by an independent body representing all political forces in South Vietnam, will be under international supervision and will be open to all political forces in South Vietnam. The incumbent president and vice president of South Vietnam resign one month before the election, with the chairman of the Senate assuming administrative caretaker responsibilities except those pertaining to election. The United States will remain completely neutral and abide by the election's outcome.

Both sides agree that South Vietnam and other Indochina countries adopt a foreign policy consistent with the military provisions of the 1954 Geneva accords and that North and South Vietnam should discuss and decide reunification of Vietnam without constraint and annexation from either party and without foreign interference.

North Vietnamese 3 and 4. In South Vietnam, the United States should stop supporting Thieu-Ky-Khiem so that there may be set up in Saigon a new administration standing for peace, independence, neutrality and democracy. The provisional revolutionary government of the Republic of South Vietnam will enter into talks with that administration to settle all internal affairs of South Vietnam and to achieve national concord.

The U.S. government must bear full responsibility for damages it causes to people of the whole Vietnam. U.S. payment of reparations is demanded.

American 4. Both sides will respect the 1954 Geneva agreements on Indochina and those of 1962 on Laos. There will be no foreign intervention in the Indochinese people will be left to settle their own affairs by themselves.

North Vietnamese 5. The United States should respect the 1954 Geneva agreements on Indochina and those of 1962 on Laos. It should stop its aggression and intervention in the Indochina countries and let their peoples settle by themselves their own affairs.

American 5. Problems existing among Indochinese countries will be settled by the Indochinese parties on the basis of mutual respect for independence, sovereignty, territorial integrity and noninterference in each other's affairs. Among the problems that will be settled is the implementation of the principle that all armed forces of the countries of Indochina must remain within their national frontiers.

North Vietnamese 6. Problems existing among the Indochinese countries should be settled by the Indochinese parties on the basis of mutual respect for independence, sovereignty, and territorial integrity, and noninterference in each other's internal affairs. As far as it is concerned, the Democratic Republic of Vietnam is prepared to join in resolving such problems.

American 6. There will be a general cease-fire throughout Indochina, to begin when the agreement is signed. As part of the cease-fire, there will be no further infiltration of outside forces into any of the countries of Indochina.

North Vietnamese 7. All the parties should achieve a cease-fire after the signing of the agreements on the above-mentioned problems.

American 7. There will be international supervision of the military aspects of this agreement, including the cease-fire and its provisions, the release of prisoners of war and innocent civilians, the withdrawal of outside forces from Indochina, and the implementation of the principle that all armed forces of the countries of Indochina must remain within their national frontiers. North Vietnamese 8. There should be an international supervision.

American 8. There will be an international guarantee for the fundamental national rights of the Indochinese peoples, the status of all the countries in Indochina, and lasting peace in this region.

Both sides express their willingness to participate in an international conference for this and other appropriate purposes. North Vietnamese 9. There should be an international guarantee for the fundamental national rights of the Indochinese peoples, the neutrality of South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia and lasting peace in the region. The above points form an integrated whole.

U.S. Planes Launch Attack

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. planes made their heaviest attack on North Vietnam today and Monday since the Dec. 26-30 air offensive. The U.S. Command reported seven "protective reaction" strikes in two days.

The fighter-bombers made five attacks Monday and two more today against surface-to-air missile—SAM—sites, anti-aircraft artillery batteries and radar defenses from the northern edge of the demilitarized zone to a point 50 miles to the north.

The command said the North Vietnamese fired three SAM missiles and a barrage of anti-aircraft artillery shells on a U.S. reconnaissance plane, bombers attacking the Ho Chi Minh trail in neighboring Laos, and the fighters escorted them.

The command said all of the American planes returned to their bases safely, and that the results of the retaliatory attacks were not known.

Other U.S. military sources said the American air campaign to blunt the North Vietnamese offensive expected this month along the DMZ and in South Vietnam's central highlands triggered the enemy action.

In other air action, the command reported that U.S. fighter-bombers flew 19 combat strikes in South Vietnam on Monday, the highest number in the south since Oct. 27 when 27 were flown.

The raids were concentrated against the North Vietnamese buildup in the northern quarter of the country and the central highlands.

The South Vietnamese command acknowledged for the first time that its bombers have been flying strikes in Laos since Dec. 1. This had been reported by U.S. and South Vietnamese officials, but the Saigon command said it withheld an official announcement "for security reasons and best results."

It said South Vietnamese bombers have been averaging 5 to 10 strikes a day against the Ho Chi Minh trail, and no planes have been lost. U.S. planes are averaging 200-to-250 strikes a day against the trail network.

The U.S. command reported an increase in ground activity involving American troops, with small-scale engagements between reconnaissance patrols on the eastern flanks of Saigon and North Vietnamese patrols.

It said two soldiers from the 3rd Brigade, 1st Air Cavalry Division, were killed and four wounded in three clashes Monday and today 38 to 45 miles east of Saigon.

New fighting was also reported along the DMZ.

South Vietnamese marines clashed with a North Vietnamese force along the eastern flank of the DMZ and killed seven of the enemy, the South Vietnamese command reported. It said one marine was wounded.

At the other end of the country, in the Mekong Delta, South Vietnamese infantrymen said 28 Viet Cong were killed, most by helicopter gunships, in an Nuyen Province. No South Vietnamese casualties were reported.

In Laos, hard fighting raged today south of Luang Prabang, the royal capital, as the North Vietnamese and Pathet Lao attacked Muong Kassy, 88 miles north of Vientiane.

Informed sources in Vientiane said the Communists made a simultaneous attack at 3:30 a.m. on all government positions around Muong Kassy, and fighting continued through the day. There was no word on casualties, but the sources said all government positions withstood the first assault.

Military sources in Phnom Penh reported that a Cambodian major was killed and 26 soldiers and civilians were wounded this morning when terrorists on motorcycles hurled hand grenades into a building. The terrorists escaped.

Airlines to Tighten Security Measures

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government has ordered the nation's scheduled airlines to screen all passengers and baggage in an effort to stop hijackings and sabotage.

Major airlines have used the security measures, at least on a part-time basis, for the past two years.

The Federal Aviation Administration, in making screening rules public Monday, also disclosed it seeks to halt illegal publication of police and airplane radio conversations during flight emergencies.

The FAA ordered the new rules into effect immediately, waiving the usual 30-day preliminary notice on grounds that the wave of hijackings has created a threat to public safety of an emergency nature.

The regulations must be met no later than three days after they are published in the Federal Register, probably today or Wednesday. The new equipment and procedures, therefore, will have to be operating at all U.S. airports served by scheduled airlines no later than Saturday.

The FAA said it will accept four screening systems, used alone or in combination: the use of small planes, or sup-thoroughly tested and proven hijacker-behavioral profile, in charter service.

Suspensions Remain On Tax Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration officials apparently have not still suspended among House Democrats that President Nixon may ask for a tax increase, perhaps after the November election.

Treasury Secretary John B. Connally and Budget Director George P. Shultz told the House Ways and Means Committee Monday there are no plans now for any tax-increase proposals, despite the big deficits that brought on a request for $50 billion additional borrowing authority.

"We don't assume there will be a tax bill this year or next for the purpose of raising revenues," Connally said.

He said also the value-added tax, a kind of sales tax, is under study along with others but there are no plans now to propose it. The tax is considered likely to figure in plans for school financing, which Nixon has said he is developing.

Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., who presided over the session, told newsmen afterward he found Connally and Shultz "very evasive on the subject of tax increases."

Ullman said the administration apparently is "contemplating perpetual deficits." He criticized use of the so-called full-employment budget, under which deficits are tolerated provided spending does not exceed what could be financed if the economy were operating at a normal potential.

"I don't know how we can get out of this without finding further sources of revenue," Ullman said.

Ullman indicated also he agrees with other Democratic members who suggested the new debt ceiling be set for less than a full year, so as to bring the administration back before Congress for a financial accounting in late summer or fall.

But Connally opposed this and said with a smile, "It's entirely possible you might not want to go into the subject then—things might be very good by then."

In testimony prepared for the committee today, Rep. Bob Eckhardt, D-Tex., said "If we made a real effort to close the remaining loopholes in the income-tax law, we could almost eliminate the deficit within the constraints of the present budget."

He estimated tax reform could add between $14 billion and $19 billion in annual revenues.

Angela Davis' Sister Arrested at Rally

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI)—Angela Davis' sister, arrested with 17 others outside a heavily guarded courthouse Monday, said she would continue demonstrating to get "justice" for the jailed black militant.

Fania Davis Jordan and the others were taken into custody under tough regulations set down for Miss Davis' murder, kidnap, conspiracy trial. They were released after a bail hearing, most of them on their own recognizance.

Defense attorney Leo Branton, the newest lawyer to join Miss Davis' case, argued the action was "blatantly unconstitutional" and asked the judge to prohibit further arrests during peaceful demonstrations outside the courthouse.

Branton also asked for the trial site to be moved a second time, arguing that the elaborate security measures taken would make jurors think Miss Davis "must be some kind of wild, demented animal."

Superior Court Judge Richard E. Arnason took the requests and several others under advisement and recessed the hearing until Wednesday.

The demonstration outside the building began while final pre-trial defense motions were being argued for the first time in an extensively remodeled 60-seat courtroom, jail and courthouse in San Jose.

Santa Clara County sheriff's deputies arrested 11 women and seven men under a new California law for picketing outside the courthouse in an area designated as restricted by the presiding judge.

"I'm going to continue to exercise my rights to demonstrate," Mrs. Jordan said at a Municipal Court hearing. "We are not trying to impede justice, we are trying to get justice for Angela Davis."

Branton, in requesting the trial be again moved, suggested San Francisco, Los Angeles or Alameda counties because they were more "sophisticated."

Lindsay Takes Leap Forward

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mayor John V. Lindsay's presidential campaign, plagued from the beginning by embarrassments ranging from Gay Liberation demonstrators to controversy over fund raising, took its first leap forward with the mayor's strong showing in Arizona.

Lindsay captured a surprising 23.6 per cent of the vote Saturday in balloting to select delegates for the Arizona State Democratic convention, at which delegates for the national convention in Miami Beach will be chosen.

Though second to Sen. Edmund S. Muskie's 37.8 per cent, Lindsay's total beat Sen. George McGovern's 20.4 per cent. Aides said it would assure him of six votes from Arizona's delegation in the national convention.

More than that, it was a great psychological lift for the Lindsay organization, which had heard little but bad news since he declared his candidacy.

"It is a tremendous boost," said one campaign aide. "Reverberations are going throughout the whole campaign organization."

Lindsay was so encouraged that he announced plans to extend his campaign to five more states—Kansas, Virginia, Colorado, Oklahoma and Washington. He previously had announced plans to run in primaries in Florida, Wisconsin and Massachusetts.

Correspondent Called Before Senate Hearings

WASHINGTON (UPI) — CBS staff to harass or intimidate correspondent Daniel Schorr. Mr. Schorr by initiating an investigation into his background.

After the news broke last fall investigating Schorr, the White House conceded it had asked for the probe. But it said the investigation was merely a routine "background check" with Schorr himself at 8:30 a.m.

Ervin released a letter from FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover supporting that explanation. Hoover said the request came from the White House on Aug. 19 and that the investigation began the next day, beginning routine "background check" with Schorr himself at 8:30 a.m.

"This matter has been fully and carefully reviewed," Ervin quoted from Dean's letter. "There are no indications of any intent on the part of anyone on the White House considered for a top government job in the environmental field.
